

CAROLYN.

I am the lightest primate in the forest I can only see well at night. I cry like a baby. I like feeding on gum on trees. During the day I hide under the branches or in tree holes. I weigh only 60 grams. If you want to see me, you need a strong flash light. My eyes are luminous orange. When I see light, I keep playing hide and seek. I am very swift you can sometimes see me for seconds. I have other friends of mine. One of them is the Potto. He is heavier than I am. He moves like a chameleon. My name is Dwarf Bushbaby.

WITH LOVE
